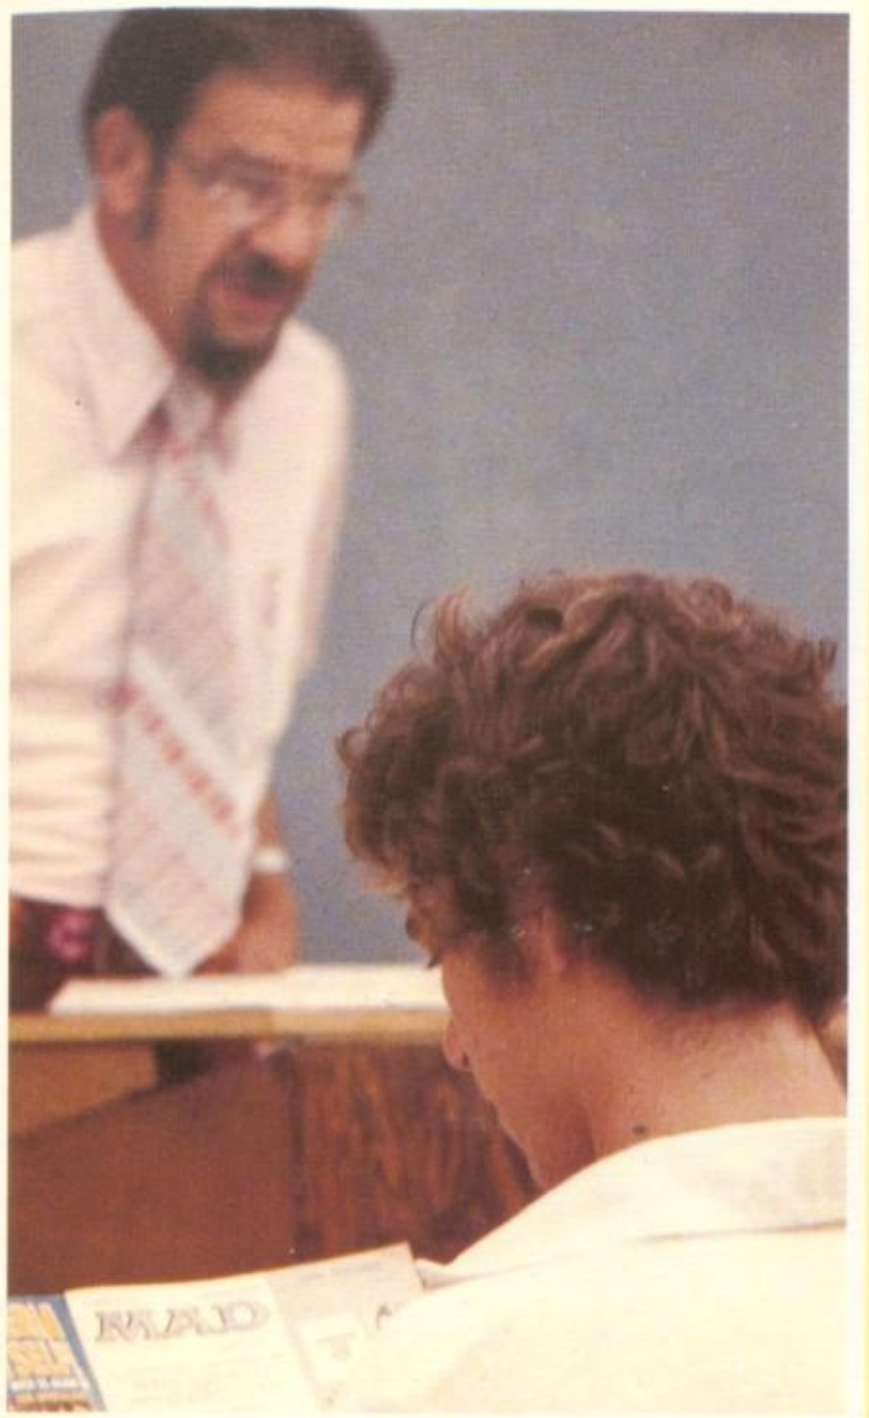
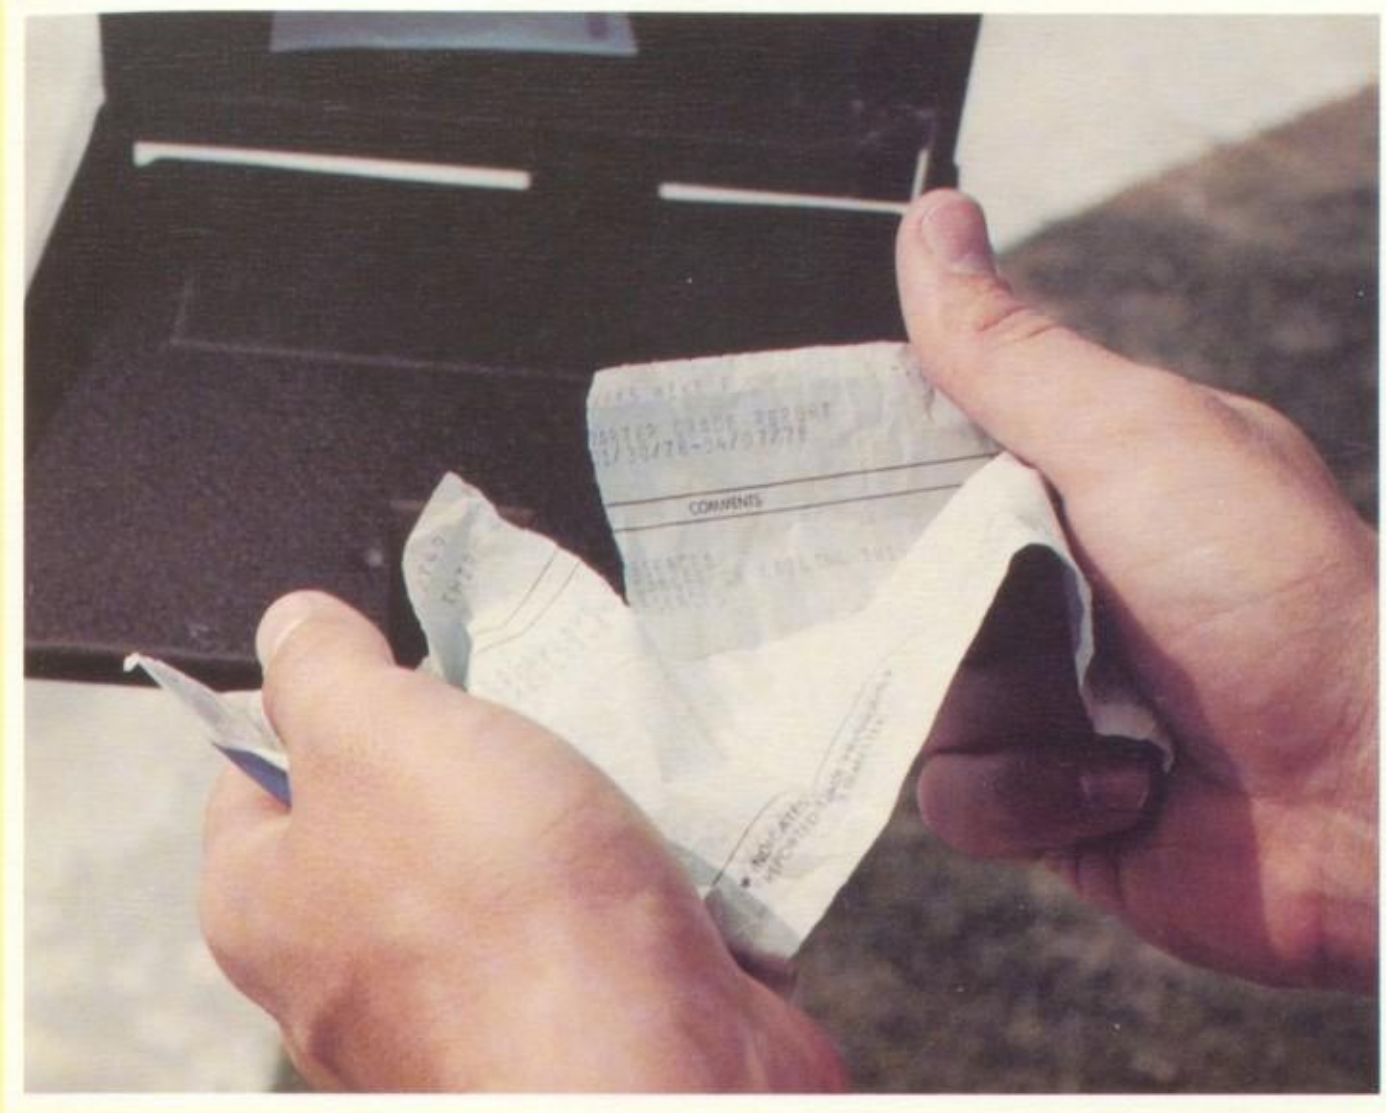
"Hocus pocus, you're the focus, you're the star today."

Why me? Why does this always happen to me? I never hear those bells!! I don't understand how anyone else can. Whether you're late to class or you're passing notes, it doesn't go unnoticed. No, you've been caught in the act!!



Cut! Take Two!



"Smile, you're on candid camera!! Yes, once again you've made a fool of yourself. If only you could relieve those past few moments. Maybe you wouldn't have tripped over your own feet!! You go through life trying to keep your cool. Then it happens; you goof and guess who is watching?

On Being a Senior
by Mary Sarhatt

Finally! After three years, we were actually seniors! Quickly we found out what being a senior was all about. It was teachers saying, "Act like an adult, but get this signed by your mother for tomorrow." Or it was the attendance office taking the note you wrote for yourself because you were eighteen and then calling your father to verify it. It was filling out forms and more forms: college application forms, financial aid forms, and scholarship forms. If I ever fill out my legal name, social security number, the amount of money my parents make, and my activities in high school again, I'll go crazy!

Being a senior was getting all those senior activities and privileges: the munches, grad week, and slave auction for Feast and Joust. It was taking English Seminar, reading Greek tragedies by Sophocles and Euripides and wondering why they couldn't say what they meant in five pages instead of twenty. Our privileges were getting out of second period five minutes early and voting in the senior polls. More privileges were not having to take P.E. second semester, having only three classes, and getting out of school at 10:55 a.m.

It was remembering when we were freshmen looking up at the seniors in awe. The boys were so big, and the girls all looked so mature. They all knew each other, and the school, while we were just getting to know the people with whom we were getting lost. It was realizing we were now the seniors that the freshmen were looking up to this year. What a jolting thought!

There were hard times too, Wondering whether college was what you wanted to do next year and if any school would accept you. It was realizing you may see some of these people again. It was trying to decide on a major and wondering if college was all it was cracked up to be. It was asking: "What am I doing here and why?" We were trying to find answers to these important questions and "senioritis" or "senior apathy" played a big role. Suddenly the answer to some of the questions was simply: "I don't care." And at least once during this year we all felt that way. If anything, our senior year was one of questions and decisions.

Changes took place this year. We grew up a lot and made many decisions. We had a lot of fun. It was a year of highs and lows. Our senior year happens only once, and we'll remember the not-so-good times as well as the fantastic ones.

Mary Sarhatt, a member of the OCAD team, will be attending the University of Redlands where she will pursue a course of study in communications, journalism, or public relations.

On Fun and Games?

by

Bonnie Berger

In my senior year, I observed a sports phenomena I have never seen before and never care to see again. This particular activity to which I refer is the limb-crushing, brain-mangling, blood-curdling "game" of bombardment. Not only am I surprised at the ferocity with which it is played but also at the dubious honor of showing one's bruises, dents, and other damages to one's teammates.

It seems the characteristics that a player must possess are quick feet, sharp eyes, a good throwing arm and an extremely thick head to shield that relatively tiny brain.

Another thing I observed about this "game" is that spectators can play as well. Not only can an observer be hit while watching this monstrosity, but with sufficient timing that same observer can hit a player with one of those mangling projectiles.

I learned from one of my fellow observers that this game has gone on for some time here at Foothill and is enjoyed by the players. (This is most surprising to me.)

To conclude, this game, next to football, has got to be the most effective way of training teenagers for war.

Bonnie Berger, a Shield staff member, plans to major in fine arts but is undecided as to which college she will attend.

On Happenings of 1978-1979

by

Alicia Rendón

While most students at Foothill are concerned primarily with news that affects them directly, such as school-oriented activities, world-wide news issues are also an important part of their lives. When seniors reflect in later years on their high school graduation, they will probably associate it with the international issues that also happened in the year 1978-1979.

It was a year marked by achievement, failure, joy, and tragedy. It goes without saying that most students will never forget the disaster the occurred in Jonestown, Guyana where hundreds of People's Temple followers died in a mass suicide. Also standing out in their minds will be the air-collision over San Diego, which was the worst in U.S. history in terms of the lives it took.

The summit meeting at Camp David regarding peace in the Middle East was on a more positive note as was the wonder of the birth of the world's first test tube baby. In Rome, Pope Paul VI died as did his successor 34 days later, resulting in the choice of a non-Italian Pope for the first time in 455 years. The breakthrough in diplomatic relations between the United States and Red China was another important milestone that took place this year.

The year 1978-1979, when looked back upon by this year's seniors will be remembered because of these major issues but probably most of all because it was the final year of their high school education.

Alicia Rendón, Shield editor, will attend the University of California at Irvine next year where she plans to major in pre-law.

On the Future for Freshmen
by Faith Sodaro

Future, as a freshman,
seemed rather dull and drear.
But later, as a Senior,
the future became clear.

Whilst a sophomore and a junior.
The dreariness dragged on.
Until the "Senioritis"
hit me with the dawn.

As suddenly as love's first touch.
I felt an awful urge.
to paint stripes on the flagpole,
and have those stripes converge.

Then to these stripes and other things.
I might add more and more.
like turning all the toilets.
or locking all the doors.

But other things detained me.
and kept me from my rounds.
The dances, plays and Munches.
ran all my plans aground.

Through all the school's activities.
I held on 'til the end.
But as I neared the final months.
my thoughts backward I'd send.

Remember'd are the days gone by.
the tests and finals long.
the dances, games and friends I loved.
were better than most songs.

But now I'm off to college and my days of fun are gone.
I know the future's waiting:
to that I now belong.

On Our Four Years at Foothill by Scott McKenney

As our one and only senior year in high school comes to a close, I really think about the phrase "how time flies." It seems like only yesterday that we were all freshmen, praying that we would still be in one piece at the end of the day. High school was such a change from junior high. For example, we got to pick our own schedules. Wasn't that great? All of you who registered last as freshmen must have had ulcers when you went up to each teacher, and he said, "Sorry, all full. Try next door." So you waited in line an hour for another teacher, and just as you got to the front again, the magic words rang out, "Can't help you kid, closed." Oh, those freshman years were great: braces, pimples, and first dances. Those dances were something else. You'd pay "$1.50 with your A.S.B. card, $2.00 without" to stand around, talk to your friends, and go to the drinking fountain 53 times.

But then the day came when we all became sophomores. That was a horrible year because, as sophomores, we had no identity. We were right in the middle of great and terrible. In fact, the tenth grade was much like the ninth. The only thing making tenth grade worthwhile was being able to say we weren't freshmen. But again the day came when we all moved up the ladder to become juniors.

The day had finally come when we were "upper-classmen." By this time, everyone was the terror of the highway and "making out" replaced T.V. as the most popular pastime. Another relished privilege was being able to go to the prom. The ultimate, right? But aside from everything else, the junior year was fantastic because everyone began to have deep pride in his school and class. All were realizing the great friends they had and just how great Foothill High was.

Now, as we are all seniors, our pride and enjoyment are at their peaks. This is the last year to be close with all our friends and to make a lasting impression for Foothill's upcoming generations. And even though we, the class of 1979, may spread ourselves across the United States, we will always remember Foothill, the good times, and the good friends.

Scott McKenney, who will be enrolled at the University of California at Los Angeles next year, plans to major in pre-medicine.

On Graduating
by
Becky Weingart

Graduation has a different meaning for each of us. It may be the end of seeing friends at school each day, of being in school activities, of participating in endless events throughout the school year, and leaving home. It is difficult to appreciate that we may be seeing some of our friends for the last time. We will be leaving the things we know and love for things unknown. It will be the beginning of another journey. For some the path will lead to college. For some it will lead to a trade or the business world; for others, marriage, the service, or a period of indecision. We are all faced with a fear of the unknown; what to do, where to go, what path to take.

We have been well prepared for our future by our years at Foothill High School. Our only limitations will be our vision, initiative, skills, and perseverance. I hope we will all attempt to attain our highest goals. We owe that to ourselves.

A special thanks to our teachers and advisors at Foothill. A sincere farewell to my fellow students. Do well, achieve your goals, attain happiness, and be at peace with yourselves.

Becky Weingart, nominated for the Gemco Scholarship, plans to attend the University of California at Irvine and major in premedicine.

On the Music of 1979

by

Amy Cage and Denise Levinson

The year 1978-1979 marked a significant development in the field of music. While rock music is still popular, soul, disco and soft music have quickly become favorites.

Many hits have been produced in the area of rock and roll. Among these hits were "Double Vision" by Foreigner and "Do Ya Think I'm Sexy" by Rod Stewart. Another top hit called "Hold the Line" was put out by Toto, a group quickly rising up the top rock charts. Ranking among the top rock groups were the Rolling Stones, Aerosmith, and Kiss.

Soul seemed to be the latest trend in music. Heading this category was Earth, Wind, and Fire with their hits "Fantasy" and "September." The Commodores' music was also popular among listeners this year. The latest name in soul music was Evelyn Champagne King, a young and talented singer. Soul occupied the top spot in music in 1978-1979.

For dancers, disco music was a favorite because of its simple rhythm. Popular albums were "C'est Chic" by Chic, and "The Wizard of Oz" by Meco. Among the favorite performers were the costumed Village People with their two hits "Macho Man" and "Y.M.C.A." This type of music is number one at today's popular discotheques.

The softer sounds of music were often heard on the stereos of today's youth. Barry Manilow remained popular with his hit "Somewhere in the Night." Billy Joel, Al Stewart, and Chicago headed the charts with their respective albums "52nd Street," "Time Passages," and "Hot Streets." This mood-provoking music was surprisingly popular in this year's fast-moving society.

Music has played in the lives of this year's seniors. It provided a pleasant background for many happy remembrances.

Amy Cage, Shield photo coordinator, is going to attend the University of California in Los Angeles where she plans to major in communications. Denise Levinson, Shield Business manager and an OCAD team member, also plans to major in communications and will be enrolled at Cal State Fullerton next year.

On Fads and Fashions
by
Cam McIver

Throughout our years at Foothill High School, we have seen many changes that are reflected in our styles, interests, and daily activities.

As freshmen, for example, how many girls said they despised those new "gauchos"? The several who did were probably transformed into gaucho fanatics as the new style began to put "Ditto" jeans out of date. Our sophomore and junior years were filled with similar fads and changing styles. Our most recent style has been manifested in the all popular, once despised, straight-leg jeans. Paired with the difficult-to-walk-in, but very attractive, four inch, thin-heeled shoes, these jeans help to make quite an outfit.

Our interests in viewing entertainment have been diverted Space-Age fantasies. The incredibly successful movie, Star Wars was probably the single, primary factor which created the "Space-Age Craze." It was immediately followed by a weekly series, Battlestar Galactica which is in the upper ranks at its network. In addition, the latest top ranked comedy series, Mork and Mindy, features an alien from the imaginary planet, Ork.

Our daily activities and sports interests have also seen many changes. Around 1976, we began to see millions of people performing "impossible" feats on small boards with four wheels. The skateboard fever hit like a bomb as $50 to $100 boards were being sold and hilly concrete skateboard parks were constructed. The long water slides also became popular as many flocked to the curved pathways to ride their foam mats down to a pool in a current of water.

Most of us will agree that these fads and new interests have helped to make our high school years very enjoyable.

Cam McIver will be attending the University of California at Santa Barbara next year.

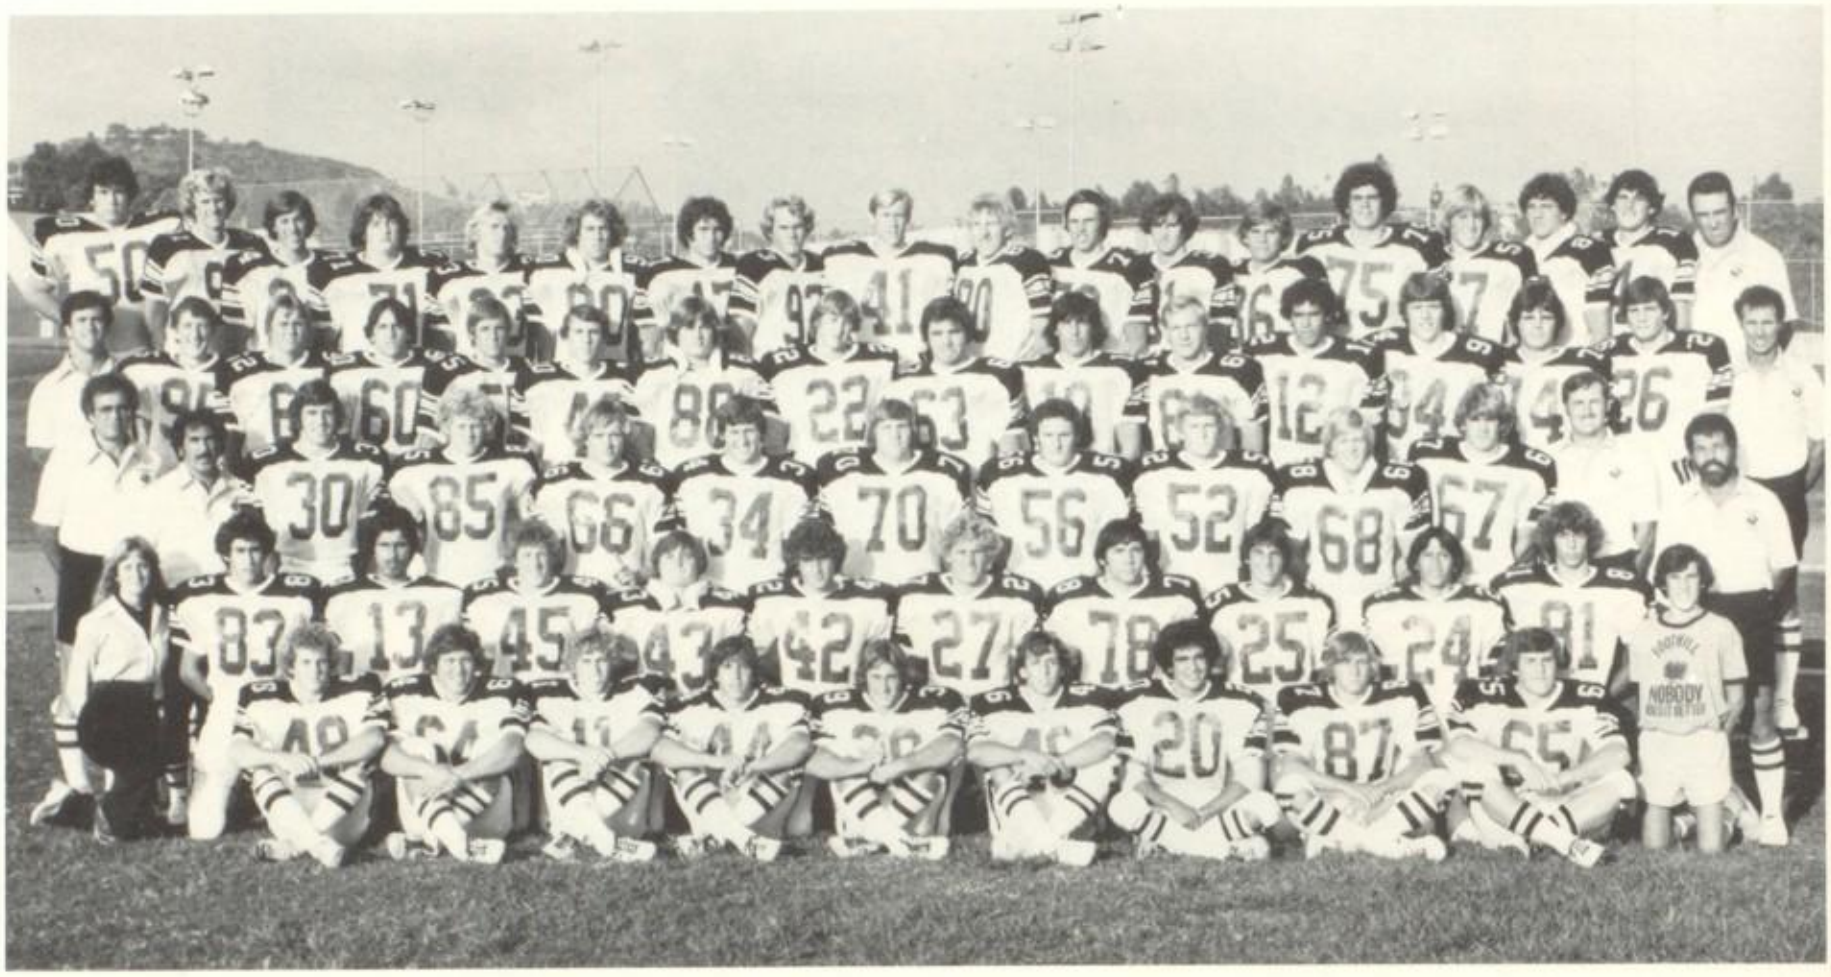
Friday Knight Football



Put away the pads, the jerseys and helmets,
It's time for the season to move on.

From "Hell Week" to Homecoming,
'Twas a rough road and long.

Water bottle breaks and locker room brawls,
Our team stuck it out, despite all their falls.

We wanted to win, it couldn't always be done,
The main thing is we had some fun.

Foothill beat Tustin; we kept our good name,
Our Varsity Knights won their Homecoming game.

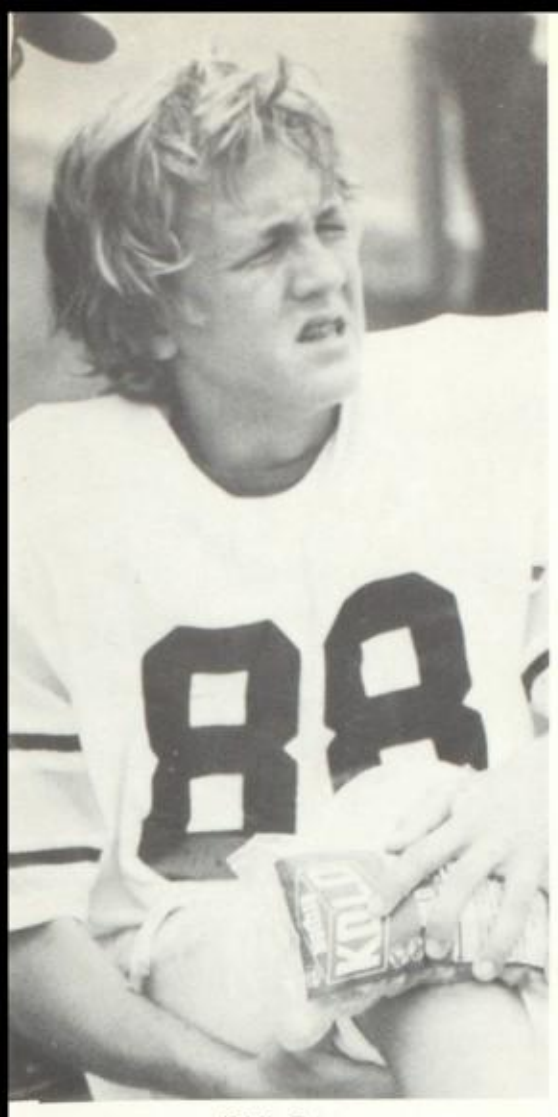
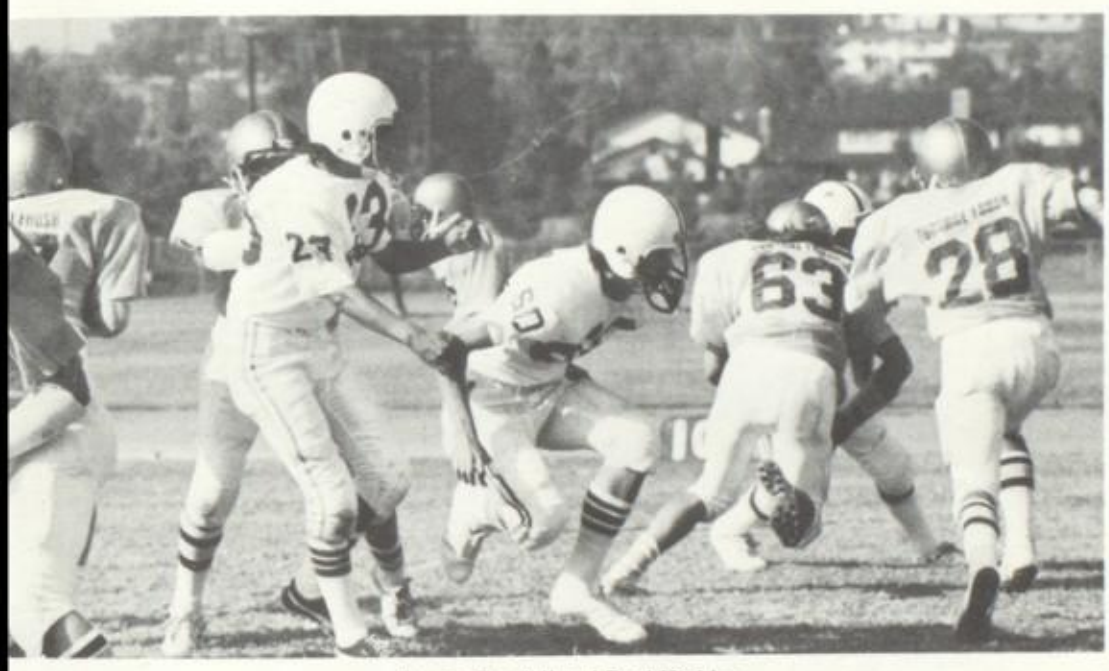
Football's Youngest Knights



Eddie Frazee

Mark Templeton



Dennis Randall and Brad Hinkley

Outstanding team attitude and effort marked the 1978 Freshman Football Team. Coach Looney attributed spirit for the team's 7 and 2 record and a second place finish. Linebacker Dennis Randall lead the defense, causing many fumbles and harassing the opponent's quarterback. The offense was lead by the team's most valuable player, Mark Templeton, who gained over 200 yards in most of the games. Davey Long, the team's most valuable back had an extremely high passing percentage as quarterback. The line paved the way for the team's success on offense. Greg Sellers, Pat Di Carlo, Scott McPherson, and Dennis Randall were outstanding on the line. Tom Duckworth and Ed Frazee topped the list of receivers for the season.

Foothill's Finest

The season ended much as it began with hard work, sweat, and dedication. Few if any expected the awesome results this year produced. Thirty one athletes came out and said they could win, and they did. They recorded a remarkable 279 points to their opponents 20, 7 shutouts, and a perfect 9-0 season, a statistic teams will try to measure up to for years to come. Teamwork, confidence, and superb athletic ability blended to make for a great season. Coach Zeich, Stedman, and Katnik are proud of the team and the athletes that make this a most satisfying season.

Knights on

Starting with the first mountain training camp and ending with a second consecutive appearance in C.I.F. finals, the 1978-79 season was a success. The sweepstakes trophy at the Dana Hills invitational and the division championship at the Orange County meet started the season auspiciously. Sweeping six of the top ten positions at league finals, this remarkable team went on to finish 8th in C.I.F. As a result continued domination of the Century League ended in an undefeated season.

The 78-79 season was a super one for the Frosh/Soph team. They posted a 10-0 record for Foothill's first-ever undefeated water polo season. the team started slowly with close wins in the Newport Tournament. A big 5-4 win overtime against Newport gave Foothill the championship. The Mini-Knights also posted their second Villa Park Tournament championship and sailed through the Century League with little opposition.

Splashes and Strokes

This has been another super season for our Swimming and Diving Teams. Our Knights opened the year by finishing second in the C.I.F. relays. Bryne Miller, Chris Cummins, Greg Terry, and Mike Reynolds paced the team as they won 11 dual meets. Our Varsity Swim team regained the league championship and were runners up in the Orange County Championships. The Frosh/Soph team won the Newport Invitational Championship and were league champions. Outstanding team members were Marty Florman and Trey Burke. The Diving team made up of Bob Pike, Charlie Herbert, and Doug Herbert also made a tremendous splash. This year's teams look forward to another great season next year.

Foothill Females Dribble to Success!

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team enjoyed its most successful season in Century League. Not only did they win their third straight league crown, but they remained undefeated (14-0) in league play for the second year in a row. The team was led by first team all league choices, Sue Block and Sue Bechtol, and second team choices, Lisa Grandmaison and Tracy Higgins. Each player improved over the course of the season, and play was highlighted by an aggressive defense, fast breaking defense offense, and teamwork.

Knights Qualify for C.I.F.

The season began slowly and seemed never ending. With a 1-5 record, it appeared as if Foothill's Varsity Basketball team was headed for disaster. But the team wanted to win and prove to their fans they were still number one, and not end up with a record like the previous years. It started with El Modena and ended with El Modena. Foothill's varsity team successfully defeated eight teams in succession, including 1st place Santa Ana and 2nd place Orange. For the first time since 1968, Foothill's Varsity Basketball Team qualified for C.I.F. They tied with Valley and lost the C.I.F. berth by a draw. All in all Foothill ended up in 3rd place in the Century League with a 9-5 record.

Knights Slide Home

The season looks challenging for the Foothill Girl's Varsity and J.V. Softball teams. The varsity players show lots of hard work and effort. The J.V. team has the great pitching skills of Charmaine Tocher plus the team's great fielding to back her up. The season looks very promising for both teams, as the victory bound coaches lead the Foothill Girl's Softball Teams through a great season.

Varsity Scores With R.B.I.'s

With long hard practices, Foothill's Varsity Baseball Team is looking forward to a successful 1979 season. The team was led in pre-season by the hitting of Mitch Sigband and O. J. Dutcher, and also by the pitching of Scott Webster and Bill Mooney. They hope to end the season in 1st place in Century League.

JV's Play the Field

The J.V. Baseball Team is being coached this year by Jim Reames and Tom Moses. The pitching is strong and the great defense is there as a back up if anybody gets on base. The preseason leaders in hitting were Mike Williams and Scott Blaising. As of now with a record of 2-2, they all hope to take the league title and complete a most successful season.

The Frosh-Soph Baseball Team has the ability to win the league title if they play to their potential. With a unique penalty system, Coach Jarmillo hopes to break all his players of their bad habits before the league begins. They work hard and play rough. The only thing that can beat this team is themselves. The team was led in pre-season by the hitting of Dan Deering and Todd Jobes. Their record stands as of now at 2-2.

Knights Give

The boys' Varsity, JV and Frosh/Soph Tennis Teams are headed for a great season. All the players are working hard, and individual as well as doubles teams show tremendous strength to continue the excellent job. Foothill anticipates sending our teams to C.I.F.

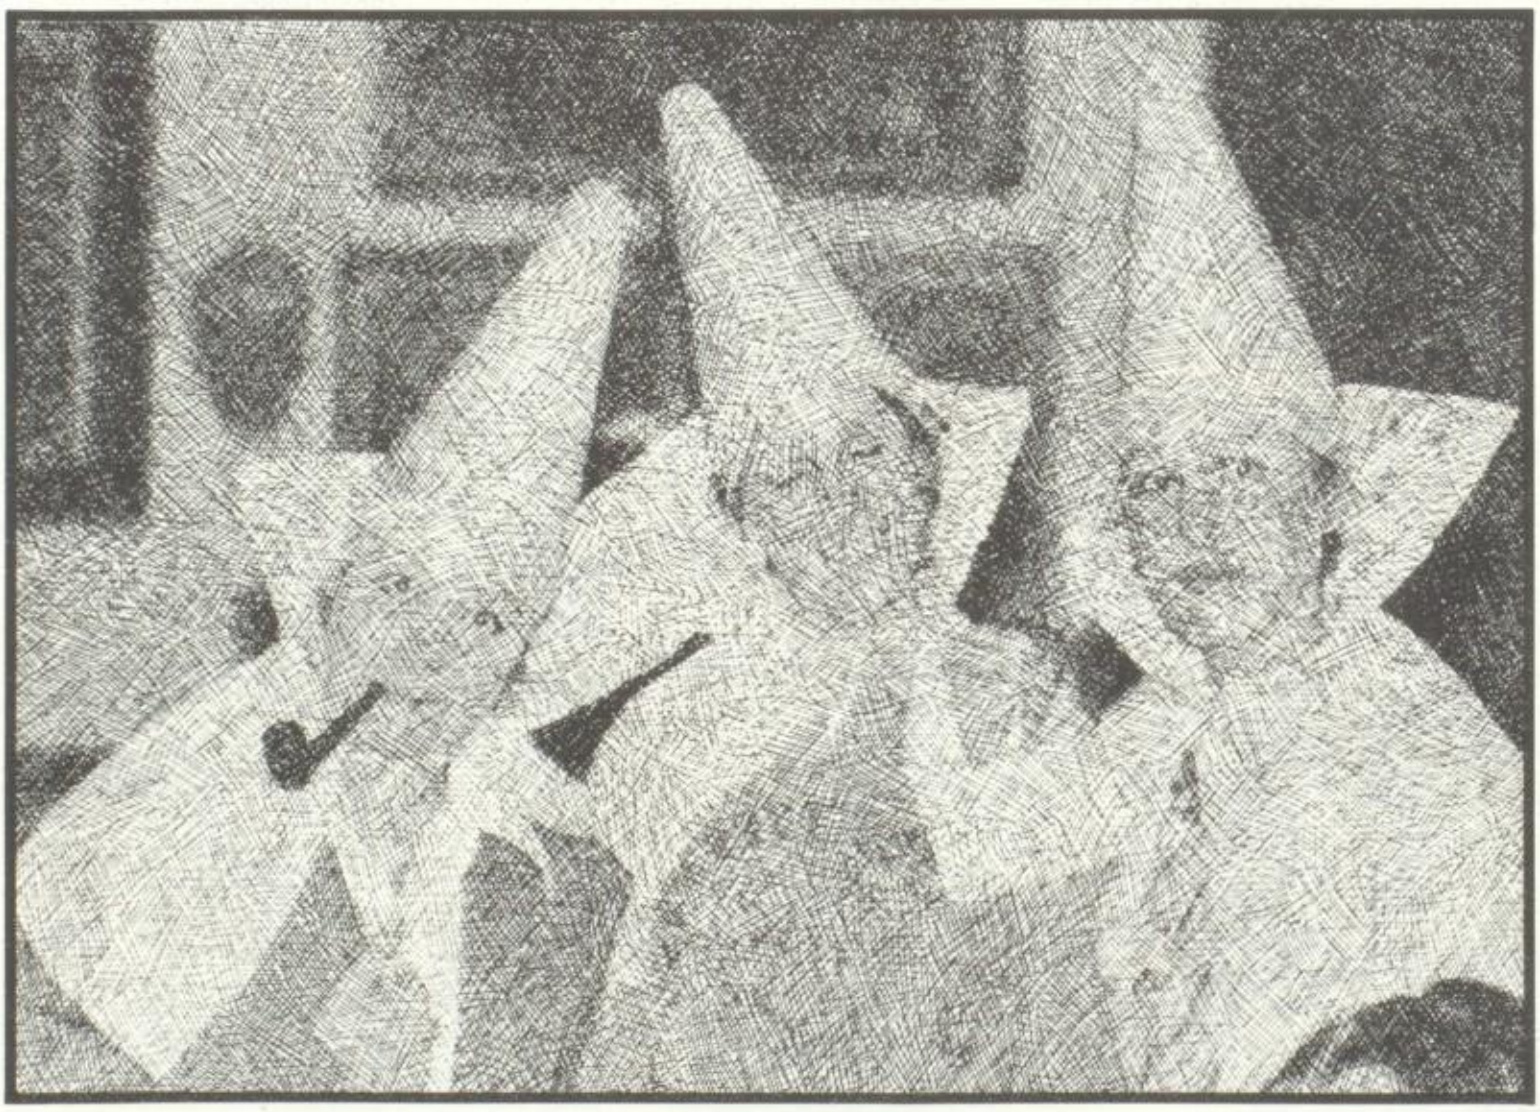
FUN AT FHS STUDIOS



RYE

Munch, Munch

A Senior Munch is lots of fun,
the entertainment really stuns.

We've mimes and hypnotists galore,
and wished we'd had even more.

Remember back to days gone by,
the costumes, formals, our favorite guy.

So once or twice a year we flee,
and settle back — we're really free!

October came and then went by,
our costumes made the time just fly.

Our second Munch went just as well,
with lovely dress, the time will tell,

If all of this we carry on into the big wide world beyond.

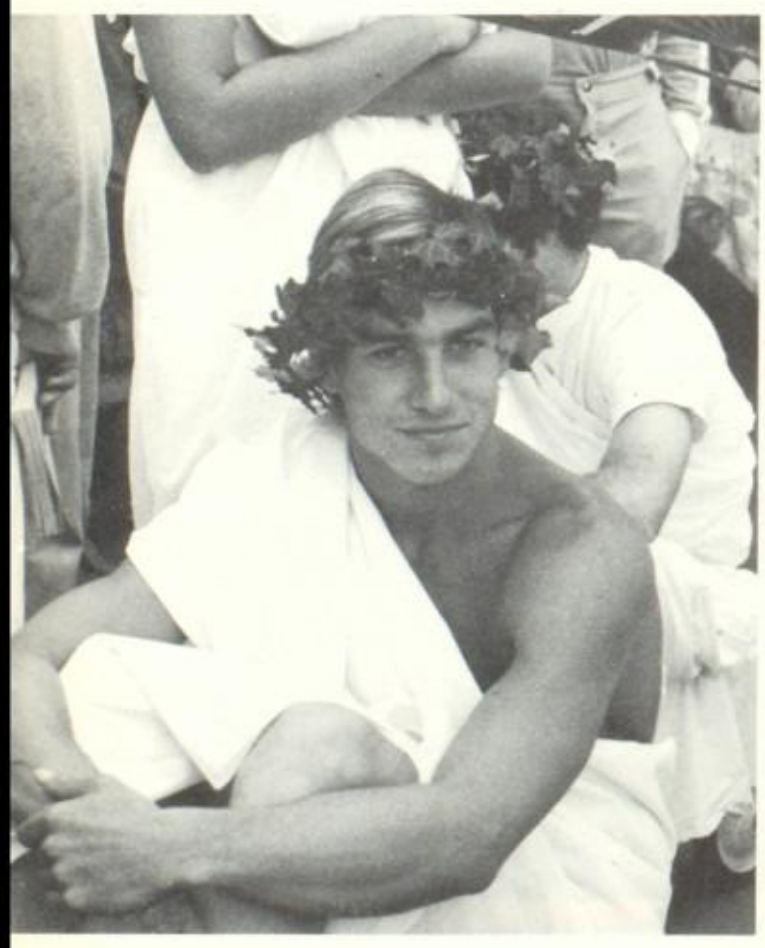
Feast and . . .

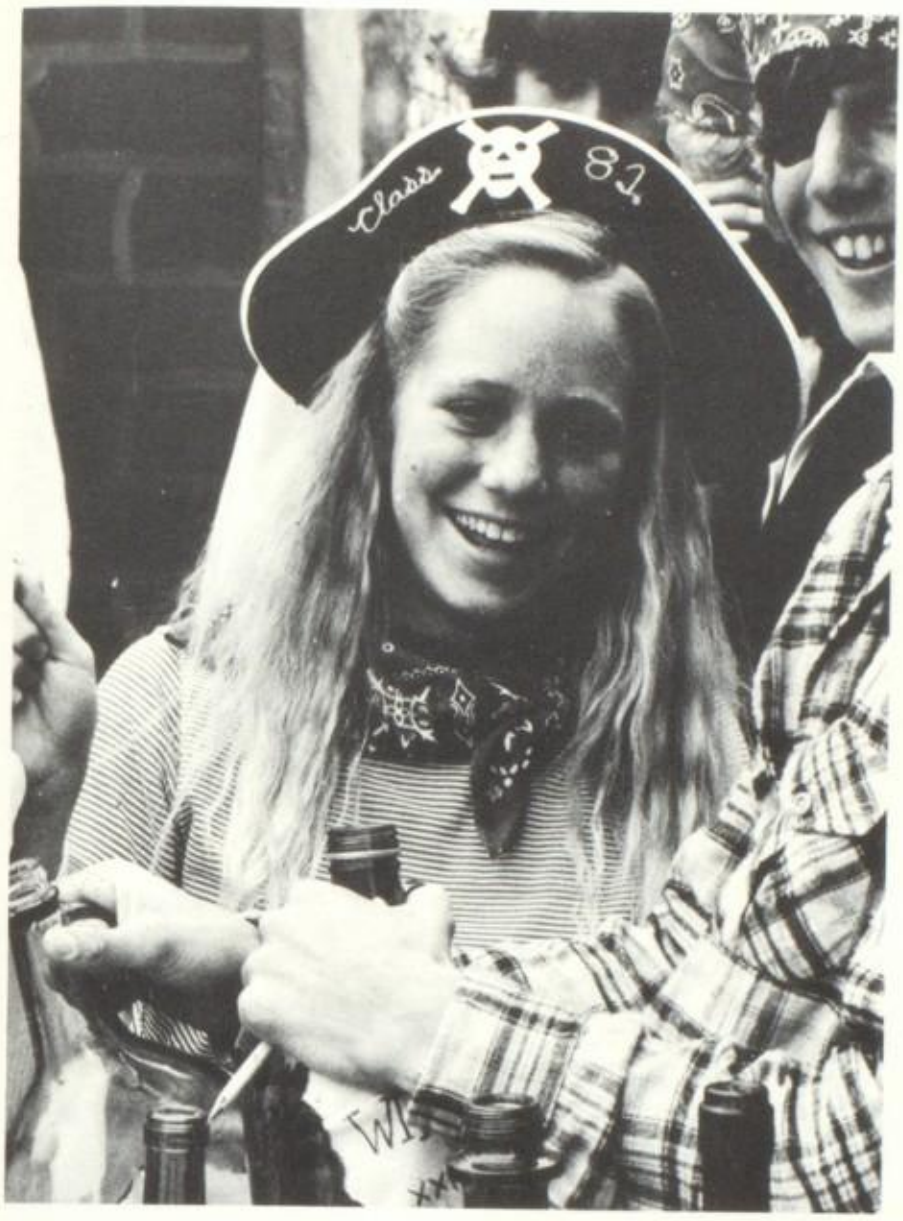


Joust

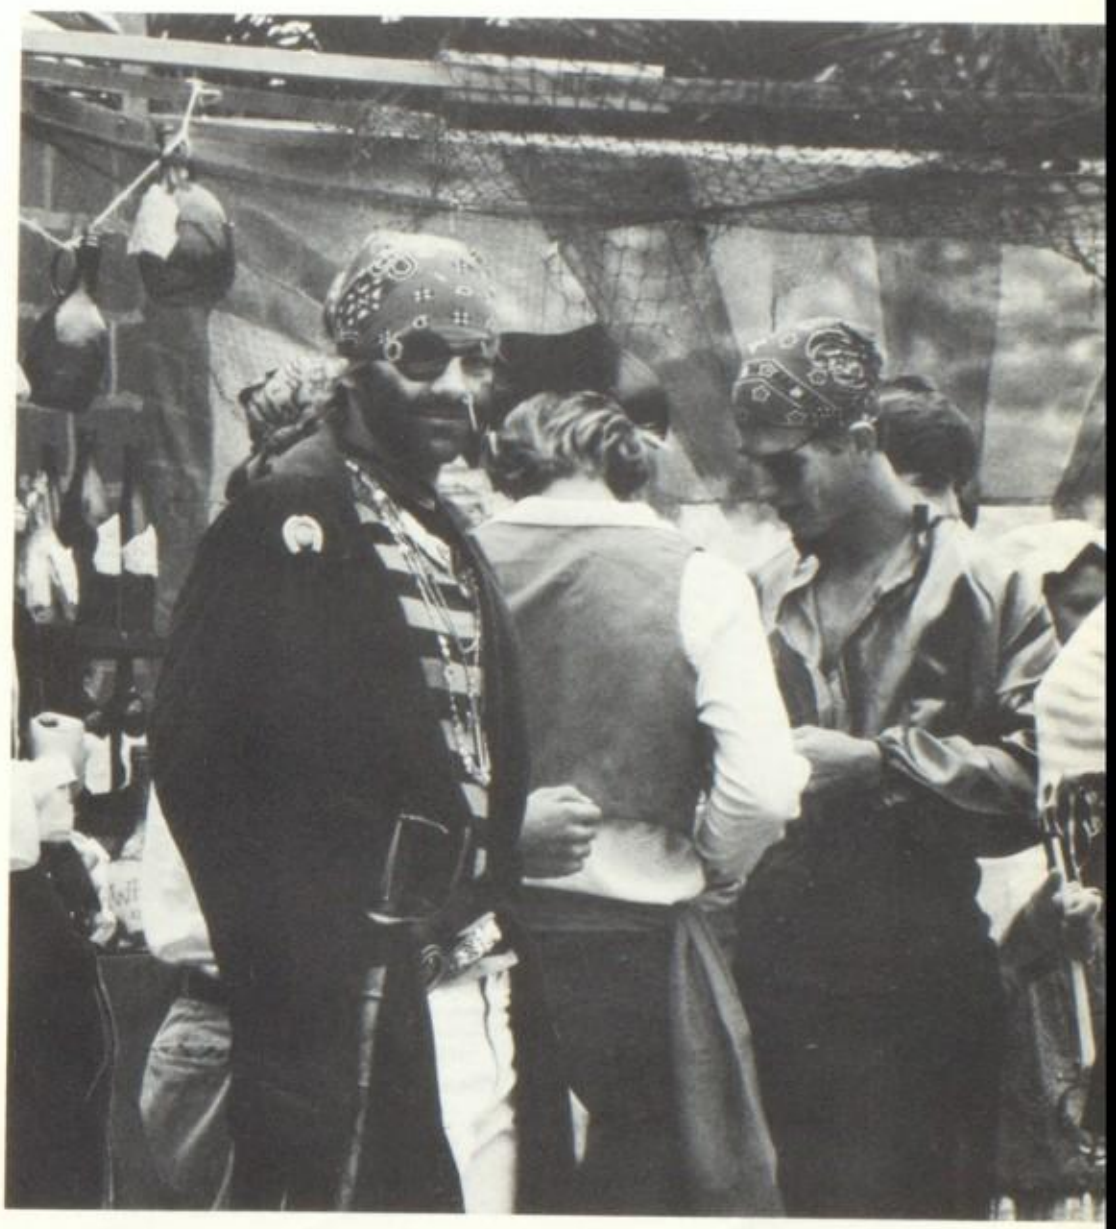
The days of togas, masters, slaves, and chariots were relived at Foothill's traditional Feast and Joust on November 17. Fortunate masters were transported from class to class by obliging slaves. Class competition consisted of water polo, tug-of-war, volleyball, a chariot race, and the Spirit yell. Because of their outstanding spirit, the Senior class won the spirit trophy.

Sophomore Recognition Day

"Yo-ho, yo-ho, a pirate's life for sophomores." The pirates of the Caribbean enjoyed lots of wine, women, and song. The many serving wenches made life a little sweeter for the rugged pirates. A buried treasure chest with gold inside was the goal of the scavengers in the treasure hunt.

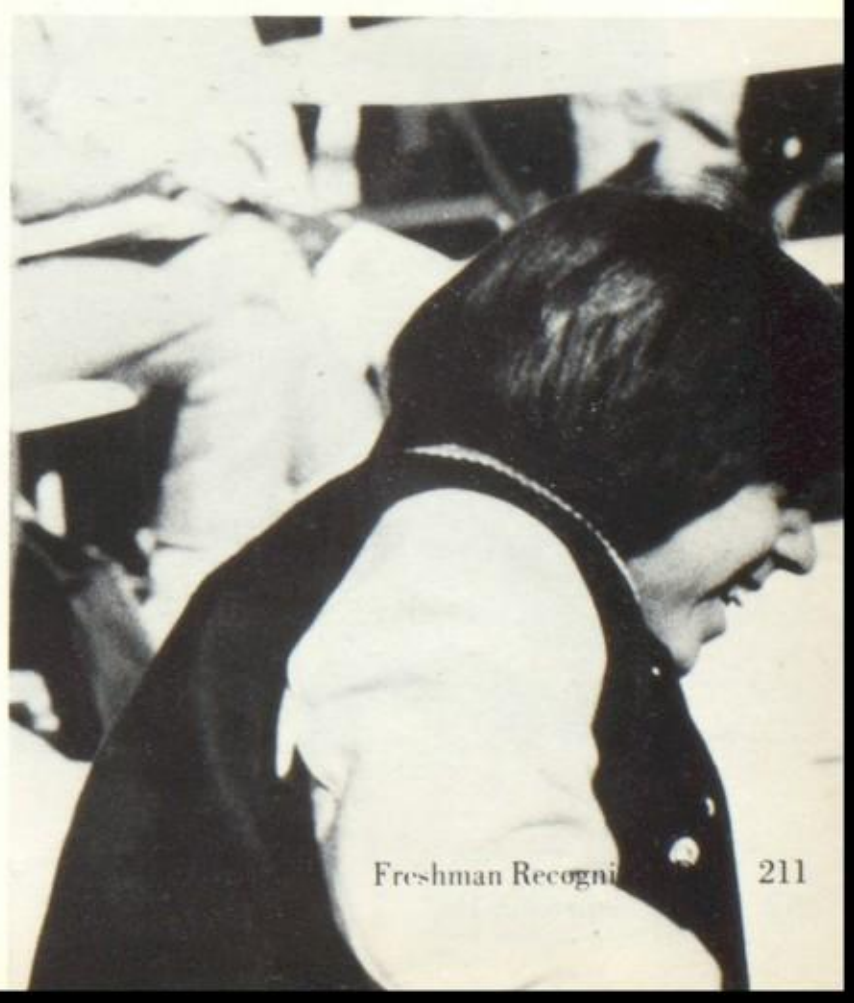


Class 81



"THE THRILL OF VICTORY

AND THE AGONY OF DEFEAT"



Junior Recognition Day

Meanwhile, back at the ranch . . . gambling was at its peak, ladies of the evening roamed the campus, and the rifle was the way of the West. Chug-a-lugging (root) beer helped to quench the thirst of the rugged gunslingers. The main entertainment was provided by the Dallas Cowboys' Cheerleaders. The saloon, O.K. Corral, horse stables, and bales of hay created a rustic atmosphere.

Senior Recognition Day

"Attention, Field Post 4079!! . . . Senior Recognition Day with an all-star cast is taking off with a double lunch and pot-luck." With our "well-trained" staff of surgeons, nurses, and casualties, we enjoyed an "authentic" Southern California Korean village. Helicopters, jeeps, distilleries, Radars, Klingers, and chaplains were all a part of the military festivities.

KNIGHT FEVER

"I love the Knight life, I love to boogie," say the night dancers of Foothill. The dancers were the people who got the dances off the ground, mainly because they shook the gym's foundations. Lovers leaped at the chance to buy tickets, dance to slow songs, and embrace in the stands. However, the embracing stopped whenever a chaperone took a sly glance up at the stands. The after-game dances provided for laughter and good rock for everyone.

1978 Homecoming

Excu-u-u-se me!!

The spirit of Steve Martin made itself evident in the theme of the 1978 Homecoming Dance at the Anaheim Convention Center. Entitled "A Wild and Crazy Knight," it was just that for the many couples in attendance. Featuring the group Evergreen, the dance on November 18 was one of balloons, arrows, bunny ears, and Steve Martin.

"A KNIGHT OF MISTLETOE MISCHIEF"

Queen Sandy Hamilton and King John Sheehan

A mistletoe Knight of mistletoe fun,
For Santa Claus and everyone;

Corsages were worn by ladies and gents,
And off to the formal everyone went;

Our Christmas elves brought lots of cheers,
Held mistletoe over friendly ears;

We danced like reindeer on a house,
while others whispered like a mouse;

"Operation Santa Claus" ready to start,
The room was filled with many a warm heart;

The punch bowl is empty, it's time to go home,
Not a creature is stirring, not even a gnome.

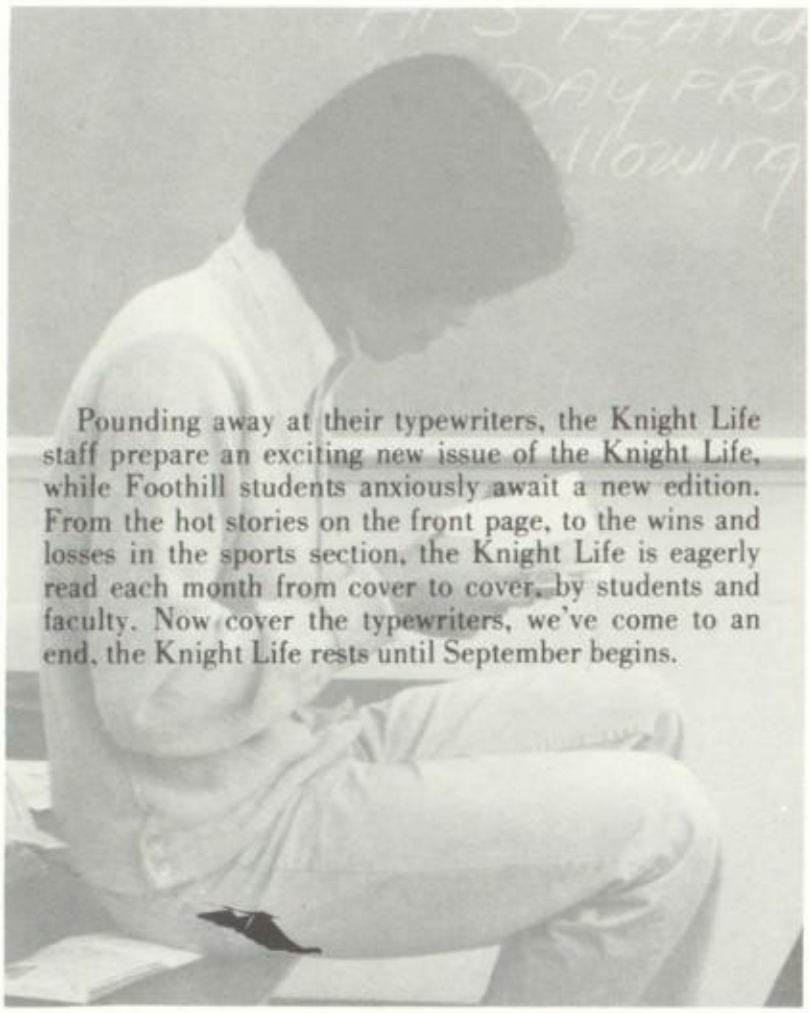
Knight Life



Pounding away at their typewriters, the Knight Life staff prepare an exciting new issue of the Knight Life, while Foothill students anxiously await a new edition. From the hot stories on the front page, to the wins and losses in the sports section, the Knight Life is eagerly read each month from cover to cover, by students and faculty. Now cover the typewriters, we've come to an end, the Knight Life rests until September begins.

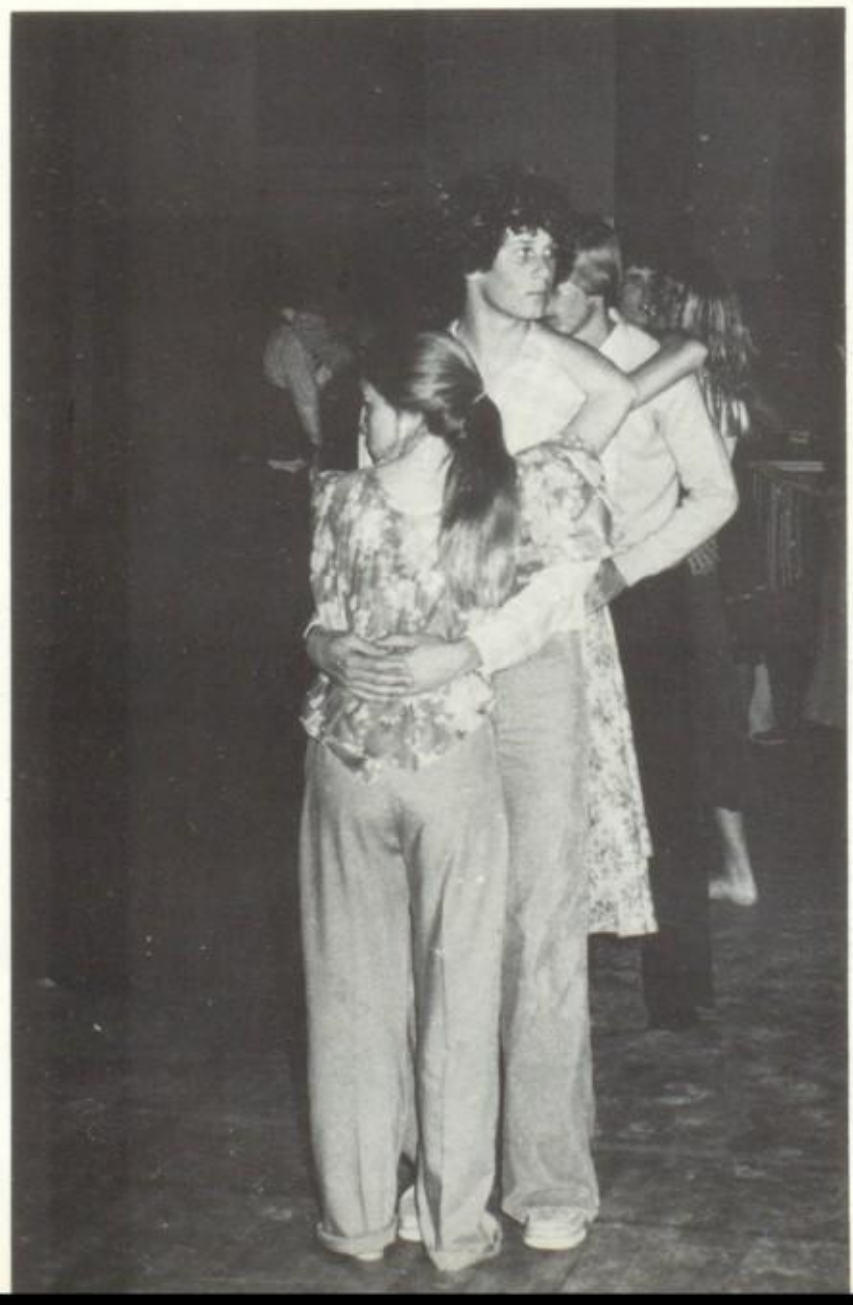
Knight Sweethearts



The birdies sang
And arrows twanged
As Cupids fluttered by.

The air perfumed
(I would assume)
With romance (heavy sigh).

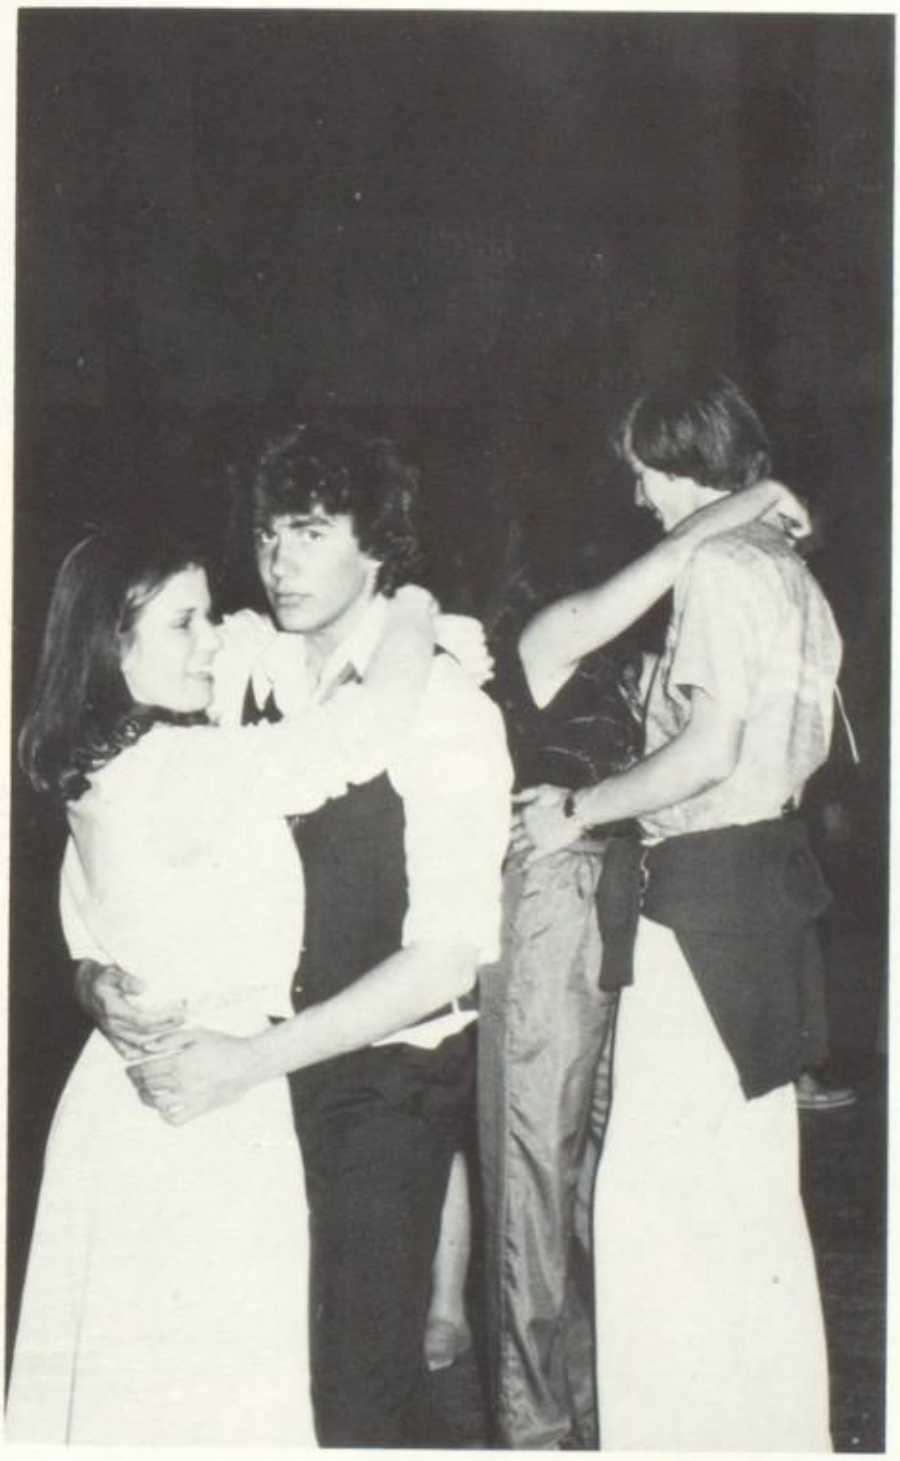
The sweethearts walked
And Cupids gawked at
The couples (all too few).

The band played on
So loud and long
And everybody flew

Through disco moves
In ones and twos
The couples danced around

And the once-filled hall,
With echoing walls,
And memories profound

Reminds us still
It always will
Of good times had by all.



ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

President: Sandy Hamilton

This year's wish box winner is the Associated Student body . . . Making wishes come true!

This year's Associated Student Body has made wishes come true, not only for themselves, but the students, as well. They have created a better line of communication through the student senate and the morning announcements. The Associated Student Body has promoted spirit with black and gold days, a fantastic Spirit Week, (even the administration was pleased at the happening) and the Victory flag pole.

"FHS NOT READY FOR PRIMETIME PLAYERS"

For twelve fruitful years, the Drama Department has lured students to the footlights; students who love the stage, the glamour of greasepaint, the anticipation of opening night, and the glory of the final performance. From stage hands to stars, the students gave their all for the performances of Scapino, Dark of the Moon, David and Lisa, and The Odd Couple.

This Says It All

A dedicated teacher,
As sweet as sweet can be,
Was standing there,
The day I came,
Too bad I had to leave.

For I was then a senior,
And graduate I would,
I really cared,
And then I dared,
To plan my livelihood.

I was to be an actor,
A famous one, a star!
With my name,
Done up in lights,
For all to see afar.

To Mrs. P. I give my thanks,
Forever and anon,
My name lives on,
From dusk to dawn,
In Tustin and Hong Kong.

Foothill's 1978-1979 Speech Team had a very full and successful season competing in the Orange County Speech League's many tournaments. Two sweepstakes trophies for overall points were brought home to Foothill. Numerous first place trophies in individual events were earned by team members competing in dramatic interpretation, humorous interpretation, original oratory, programmed reading, dual interpretation, impromptu, original prose and poetry, and expository speaking. In December, Foothill hosted a Varsity Speech Tournament. Ending the season, the team traveled to Marina High School for the State Qualifying Tournament and to Tustin High School for the National Forensic League Qualifying Tournament. Robin Coult is this year's president, and Patti Rosenwald serves as secretary.

Drill Team Marches On

With white gloves and Cadillac Red lipstick, this year's Drill Team marched through another successful year. Placing in the Westminster parade, they also competed in the rain to win Sweepstakes at Lester Oaks. Throughout the season they gave excellent performances during half-time, at football games, and closed the season with another excellent performance at the basketball half-time show. All in all, Foothill's Drill Team came out a winner!

Forward March!

Strutting to the beat of the big bass drums, Foothill's marching band carried our colors and pride . . . through the crowded streets at parades . . . and at competitions throughout Southern California. They marched and played well enough to capture first place at Lester Oaks Band Review in Riverside and Sweepstakes at Santa Ana Christmas Parade.

Cameramen

The Shield Photography Staff for 1978-1979 spent many hours at school sponsored activities throughout the year. Games, dances, concerts, recognition days and many other activities were attended by staff photographers, constantly snapping numerous pictures to help the students at Foothill High School remember this year. Not shown are photographers Richard Lloyd and David Contanza.

IN THE BEGINNING . . .

There was an advisor who selected a staff based upon creativity and willingness. These students put forth their ideas at a proliferous rate. And as the year passed these ideas, efforts, drawings, and pictures grew into the concrete evidence of hard work and diligence.

In the first month, the theme was made; in the second month, the light of the flash cubes dawned; in the third month, the ideas were created; in the fourth month, we turned gray; in the fifth month, the pictures were cropped; in the sixth month, the quad packs were completed; and in the seventh month we PANICKED! These hearty souls, the pioneers of Foothill High School, have forged this yearbook into a monumental landmark.
